I love the sound of the Mac but am open to other options Another thing that bothered me about the Mac gear was the startup times.. I've got a question for you all and I hope someone has some experience and recommendations.. Here is some late breaking info on the MX150/151 from someone in Germany, who was having Sat TV issues and reports having just received a new update from Chuck H.. I understand the HDMI board on the MX121 was sourced from Denon (or something close) and is probably much better than whats in the MX151.
